Do You Have Hearing Loss?

Take This Simple Quiz: If you say yes to three or more of the following questions, you may have already experienced some degree of loss.

- ☐ Do I often ask people to speak up or repeat what they have said?
- ☐ Do my family members complain that I turn the radio or music up too loud?
- ☐ In the car, do I turn my head to look at the person talking?
- ☐ When conversing on the phone, do I miss words or part of a sentence?
- ☐ Do I need people to speak slowly in order to understand them?
- ☐ Can I participate better in conversation when I see a person's lips?
- ☐ Do I have trouble hearing the TV at a volume level others are comfortable with?
- ☐ Do I avoid social situations or family gatherings because it's hard to understand others in large groups?
- ☐ Am I missing calls or visitors becasue I don't hear the phone or doorbell ring?

What is a TTY?

The telephone is a vital element in our daily living. We routinely use the phone to chat with friends, make dinner reservations, inquire about job openings, and even to do our banking. For most of us, the telephone provides a convenience that we take for granted. However, for the several million deaf people in this country, the conveniences as well as life-saving capacities of the telephone have, until recent years, been inaccessible. Today, a deaf or speech impaired person can make telephone calls using a TeleTYpewriter (TTY). With a TTY, the conversation is typed rather than spoken and direct communication is possible with anyone who has a similar device.

Calls placed to or from a non-TTY user can be placed through the Telecommunications Relay Service. TTYs do not require special telephone equipment or installation.

Microloop III

Microloop III
No Wires, No Headphones

For people with telecoil (T-coil) enabled hearing aids. The Microloop III picks up sound from the TV or stereo and sends it through an amplifier to a thin wire around the perimeter of the room. The signal flowing through the wire creates a magnetic field representing the sound of the TV or stereo. The user simply switches on the telecoils in their hearing aids and receives the magnetic signal anywhere within the looped area. Easy installation, no maintenance.
6741. . . .$199.00

Microloop Receiver
Loop Sound Without Hearing Aids

Induction receivers with headphones are available for people without hearing aids, or without T-coil enabled hearing aids. Receives the magnetic signal anywhere within the loop perimeter, amplifies the signal and sends the sound through headphones to the ears.
Note: This is NOT a wireless system.
6743. . . .$99.95

Microloop Loop Pad
Good for a Single Seat

The Loop Pad is a 15" by 15" cloth pad that can be placed on a chair or under a cushion. The magnetic field extends several feet out from the pad. 20 ft. Connecting cord eliminates the need for looping the entire room
6744. . . .$39.00

Microloop Car Kit
Adapts for Use In the Car

Car Kit option for the Microloop III includes cigarette lighter power cord, loop wire and clips, and mounting bracket for better hearing on the road. Must be used with the Microloop system.
6745. . . .$29.00

Make your church or auditorium accessible to everyone

Worship services, concerts, movies — things that most of us take for granted — are not part of the everyday life for those who have a hearing loss. Even for a hearing aid user, listening in an auditorium can be a challenge. With the help of a PA FM system, individuals with hearing loss can now enjoy sermons, concerts or movies. Since the message is broadcast directly from the microphone, only sounds which are intended to be heard reach the listener's ears, uninterrupted by distracting background sounds.

How does a Large Area PA™ FM Listening System Work?

The audio of the service is transmitted wirelessly to the listener who wears headphones, earphones, or a neckloop plugged into a body-pack receiver. The listener can adjust the volume to their comfort level as they listen to the speaker's message without distracting background noise. Listeners are free to sit anywhere in the congregation, and they won't miss a word of the program.

How can a Large Area PA™ Listening System help my facility?

Our FM listening systems offer a solution to those in need of hearing assistance in your congregation. Those with hearing difficulties can feel connected to the message rather than isolated from those around them. Our units are easy to operate, provide high quality audio, and last for years!

Learn to Lipread

V. McKinney - Designed to develop skill through practice and thereby reduce frustration for those who cannot understand enough conversation to participate. This program is an excellent way to supplement the training from a class or therapist. For those able to wear a hearing aid, lipreading (speechreading) supplements the linguistic auditory information received through the aid, particularly in noisy environments. For those lacking usable residual hearing this practice could increase the amount of speech communication one is able to grasp. This series consists of lipreading and auditory training lessons for adolescents and adults. It is available on videotape or DVD, together with a manual to provide additional practice. ### Cochlear Implants in Children

Ethics & Choices
J. Christiansen & I. Leigh – Implanting cochlear hearing devices in children as young as 12 months old (and in some cases, younger) has been an ongoing controversy between professionals, parents and the Deaf community. The authors address every facet of the sensitive issues connected with the procedure by reviewing hundreds of responses to a survey of parents with children who have cochlear implants. They conducted follow-up interviews of the parents of children who have had a year's experience using their implants, and interviewed the children themselves. Their findings shape the core of this useful, informative study. (340 pgs, softcover, 6" x 9")

Summer's Story

DVD

A Collection of Videos About Life Experience with the Cochlear Implant
Born as a hearing child in a world filled with music, Summer lost her hearing due to Spinal Meningitis at the age of three. Written by Summer Crider, this DVD is about a choice placed her at the crossroads of two worlds. Four video segments trace Summer's use of hearing aids, tactile aides, speech therapy, auditory training and the families final decision for a cochlear implant at age 6. The video documents Summer's personal and educational experiences, as well as challenges she faced in both the hearing and deaf world. This is an inspiring story of a young girl who molded two worlds into her own, the sound and the soundless, showing the roles that love, support and technology played in making her dreams come true. Subtitles are presented throughout the DVD for accessibility purposes. (DVD, 64 mins, dialogues in ASL and English).

Sound and Fury

DVD VHS

Academy Award nominated Sound and Fury follows the intimate, heart-rending tale of the Artinians, an extended family with deaf and hearing members across three generations. Together they confront a technological device that can help the deaf to hear but may also threaten deaf culture — and their bonds with each other. The debate is sometimes silent, but by no means quiet. When all is done, Sound and Fury speaks volumes about the choices we make and the battles we fight in order to be heard. (80 mins, closed captions)

Sound and Fury: 6 Years Later

DVD

DVD
When we last saw the Aritinian family in 2000's "Sound and Fury", Heather's parents had opted to not implant her. In this sequel, we discover she received the implants afterall, as did many members of her previously divided family. Now, follow 12-year old Heather as she successfully interacts between the hearing and the signing-deaf worlds. (DVD, 29 mins, unrated, closed-captions)
